A very pretty entertainment was given Friday evening in the Second ward institute by the Primary association of that ward. The first part of the programme consisted of songs and recitations by the little folks, and the second part was a clever presentation of the story of Cinderella in tableaux. During the princes' ball scene a pretty minut was danced in almost faultless form by sixteen of the little folks. Those taking part in this were the following:

Cinderella.....Rosabel Seaveroff
Prince.....Walter Thompson
Lizelle McMinnie Clark
Courtiers to Sisters.....
.....Norman Shorten and Ashby Boyle
Courtiers to Ladies.....Carrie Browning, Johnnie Sowerford, Ada Stevens, Howard Jenkins, Maggie

The guests present were as follows: Mrs. Lucy Cullen Nelson, Mrs. Ada Barrett McQuarrie, Misses Car-na-han, Kiesel, Cassin, Kloss, Corey, Langsdorf, Scudder, Farmer, Cassin, Hogan, Vickery.

The junior class of the high school held their class day exercises Friday evening, and a right merry time they have. The members of the senior class were the objects of especial atten-tion in more than one way. First they were escorted to the best front seats in the house, and then a series of hits at the characteristics and foibles of the different members of the class of 1900 was given. The guests took it good-naturedly. The senior roll call was a characteristic feature. Quotations re-ferring to each member of the class were given, as follows:

Stone—"The infant love of all his dear race."
Barker—"He is the most unpenetrable an that ever kept with man."
Boreman—"The glass of fashion and the mould form, the observed of all observers."
Cook—"Who chooseth me shall get what many men desire."
Lockhead—"His doth bestride the nar-row world like a Colossus."
Knauss—"She has no reliqu for sal-vation."
Spargo—"A howling success."
Carhart—"Love is the blind fool who loves cannot see the pretty follies that they themselves commit."
Slisby—"Much may be said on both sides."
Hart—"In the spring, a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."
McGregor—"After life's fitful fever, he sleeps well."
Snow—"Pretty, but old enough to go with the girls."
Burton—"He has a face like a bene-diction."
Higginbotham—"A harmless neces-sary cat."
Hansen—"The gravity and stillness of your youth, the world has noted."
Gibson—"No sardier in my misery."
Shermer—"She stood a sight to make an old man young."
Brown—"Six years darling of a pig-my's size."
B. Stone—"Even a single hair casts a shadow."
Barr—"You'd scarce expect one of my age to speak in public on the stage."
Corey—"I pray you, do not fall in love with me."
Carnahan—"Till then, my noble friend, chew upon this."
Rudiger—"That this, too, too, solid flesh would melt."
Stanley—"I'm my mamma's little baby boy."
Parker—"No longer a child."

The ladies of the Macabees gave a delightful card party in K. P. hall Tuesday evening.

Soda Springs Hotel Opens.

(Special Correspondence.)

Soda Springs, Ida., May 23.—The re-opening of the Idanha hotel for the sum-mer season took place last night, about 100 invited guests being present, a num-ber of them coming from various parts of the country. A most magnificent ban-quet was served and all enjoyed them-selves.

About 11 o'clock the guests all pro-ceeded to Gorton's hall, across the street, where they engaged in the merry dance until 1 o'clock, and the jolly crowd dis-perced to their homes.

This beautiful summer hotel is a large and commodious three-story building, with octagonal corners. At the top of one of them is an observatory, from which the surrounding country can be viewed for many miles. The house was built by the Natural Mineral Water com-pany in 1897 and was run the first three years by the Pacific Hotel company. It has stood idle for three years, since which time it was conducted by C. H. Wetzel, up to last fall, when the pres-ent manager, T. T. Woodall, leased it for a term of five years. It now has the prospect of having its most successful run as it is in better shape than ever before. The building contains fifty rooms, all handsomely furnished.
